WARNING

You climb at your own risk. Climbing is a dangerous activity carrying the risk of serious injury or death. If you climb, the presumption is that you are aware of and accept these risks together with responsibility for your activities and your safety. You are the sole judge of conditions, the suitability of any chosen route, the ability of the party and you take sole responsibility for your actions. Rock is a dynamic medium and rockfalls are frequent. In the mountains the weather changes quickly, climbs change unpredictably; blocks, flakes and holds become loose and fall off, rock becomes vegetated and dirty, in situ gear deteriorates or disappears. Even a minor change can have a dramatic effect on the difficulty or seriousness of a route. There can be no presumption that any given climb will be found in the condition described. It is therefore essential that climbers judge the seriousness or difficulty of any route before committing themselves.

While every effort is made to present accurate information, the descriptions, grades and comments provided in this guidebook are compiled from a number of sources. Cumbria Bolt Fund

The Cumbria Bolt Fund was established in 2007 to help fund and manage the replacement and development of protection bolts and lower-offs throughout Cumbria and surrounding areas. Many of the bolts in Cumbrian crags were placed in the 80s and 90s and were in a dangerous state and in need of replacement. Some have been replaced already however there are many still awaiting our attention. This work isn't cheap as it demands time, effort and cash. The Cumbria Bolt Fund is funded entirely by donations from the public and partner organisations like the BMC, FRCC, Rockfax and Lakeland Climbing Wall Foundation. This is why we need your support to continue our work. Donations to the bolt fund can be made through the website:- www.cumbriaboltfund.co.uk

Instructions for downloading and printing.

The mini-guides and crag pdfs can be downloaded to your smartphone or tablet

1. click on the link <https://www.frcc.co.uk/mini-guide-downloads/>
2. scroll through the menu
3. select the pdf you want by clicking the link
4. a new window opens with the contents of the pdf
5. on your computer select Print or Export and print or save the pdf
6. on your smartphone or tablet choose send and choose a destination

Printing

A5 pdfs can be printed 2 pages side-by-side on A4 paper.

Each crag starts at the top of a new page so, to save paper and ink, you can choose which pages (Craggs) to print.

To keep you informed and updated we are publishing crag and mini-guides to the area. Our pdfs are constantly updated to provide accurate and up to date information about new developments in the Lakes. All of this information is collated by volunteers from the FRCC Guidebook Team. These downloads supplement our comprehensive and selected guidebooks:

Runestone Quarry

OS Ref: NY 3065 0244

Alt: 250m

Rock: Slate

Gothic ravines and decaying quarry buildings hide this sheltered fast-drying sport venue that offers enjoyable slabs and steep walls catching the morning or afternoon sun. Runestone is easily reached and sits hidden in an elevated secluded position, marked by huge spoil heaps, overlooking the Langdale fells.

Ignored for two decades, re-equipping the quarry was started by members of the Eden Valley MC in 2019 and has been continued by a few enthusiastic activists with support from the Cumbria Bolt Fund. This hard work, and the publication of this guide, is completed voluntarily and your donations support the purchase of equipment. If you have enjoyed climbing here please make a donation at - www.cumbriaboltfund.co.uk.

Warning: The quarry is now a popular venue and traffic has cleaned some of the lines, yet all of these Lakeland slate quarries are unstable with abundant loose material. Take care climbing, moving along the top and across the spoil heaps. The last major rockfall here was as recently as 2021.

Approach

From the A593 Ambleside - Coniston road, take the Tilberthwaite turn (acute right if approaching from the north) and park at a large car park below Tilberthwaite Quarry. Walk north along the road passing through the farm. Take the gated bridleway branching up to the left and follow this, steeply at first, for about 1km, until it levels out. To the west, high on the fell, a huge spoil-heap with a conspicuous slate incline marks the way into the quarry. To reach this, continue along the bridleway and take the second track on the left; then over a stile to reach the inclined path which leads into the Lower Quarry.

Lower Quarry

Introduction

A sheltered spot where you may be out of any wind blowing through the Middle Quarry.

Approach

From the ruined buildings at the top of the incline, a loose path descends into the quarry.

Runestone 1 - Monster Dog Area

West Side

The right-hand side coming down the path from the ruined building.

① All I really want to do 12m F6a+

Climb the slab passing left of the overlap.

15.09.2020 D Geere, P Ibinson

② Betty Boo 13m F6c+

Gain the niche then take any finish on the slab.

20.09.2021 D Musgrove, P Clarke

3 The Beatmasters 12m F6b+

Clip the first glue-in bolt then span left to good handholds above the lip and step left into the niche on Betty Boo. Mantel onto the slab and traverse left to the arête. Thin cracks in the left side of the slab lead to a short traverse back right.

20.09.2021 D Musgrove, P Clarke

4 Ska Train 12m F6a+

Up and left onto the slab. From a ledge, step up and left and follow the thin slab.

27.08.1990 M Miller

Originally E3 5c with a skyhook runner - retrobolted in 2020

5 The Narrow Land 10m F6a+

The hanging corner has suspect rock; reach the slab across a tricky bulge.

15.07.2020 K Phizacklea

6 Unknown Warrior 10m F7a+

Climb the flakes just right of the arête. Clipstick the bolt on the left to protect the stiff pull to the slab.

2020 K Phizacklea

Re-ascended in 2022 with a Stiff Clip following the loss of a crucial hold: P Whillance

7 Monster Dog 10m F6c+

The lower slab leads to a tough pull through to the top slab. Top out and belay on the ledge above. Originally E4 6b - retrobolted 2020

25.08.1990 M Miller

8 Power of Sila 10m F5b

Lovely climbing with one awkward move. Top out and belay on the ledge above.

29.05.2020 E Parker, H Mawson

East Side

The first routes are down at the lowest point of the quarry on the left descending from the ruined building.

Runestone 2 Gandalf area

9 Rosa Canina 12m F6a

The wall right of the corner. Start on a debris heap and go directly up to maillons on hangers.

15.04.2021 I Campion, G Campion

10 Caspian 15m F5b

A really enjoyable romp up the slab left of the descent. Move right across an undercut nose then trend left to follow a shallow groove.

8.03.1992 B Pilgrim, M Edwards

11 Ron's Ramble 15m F5c

Start as for Caspian and make a rising traverse rightwards, crossing the gully, to the lower off on Runescape. Lower down as for Runescape to avoid the pit below the overhang.

7.06.2022 G Campion, G Edwards

12 Runescape 12m F6a

From a ledge with a belay bolt, step left onto a spike then move left onto the slab above the overhang. After a tricky move things settle. Lower back down to the spike to avoid precarious blocks below the overhang.

5.05.2022 G Campion, I Campion

13 Gandalf 13m F6b+

25.08.1990 M Miller, P Hadfield

14 Precious 13m F6c+

Smooth padding on the right arête of the Gandalf block. .

20.09.2021 P Whillance, A Towse

The hideous chimney is best avoided: Gollum's Gully [12m VD 1991]

15 Buttocks 13m F6a

The narrow wall to the right of Gollum's Gully.

2020 K Phizacklea

16 New Booties 10m F6c

Fingery climbing below a huge detached block. Climb up to a loose flake and cross to the block. A diagonal crack leads back right to finish.

20.04.1991 S Halton, L Harrison

17 And Panties 10m F6c+

Difficult smearing.

2020 K Phizacklea

Dolphin Buttress

This is the protruding buttress 10m left of Lynn-er Motion and opposite All I really want to do.

18 Dolphin Direct 10m F5 † New

Climb up crossing a dusty ledge and past a peg. Protection from the bolts and use lower-off on right.

8.09.2023 | Campion, G Campion

19 Kipling Wall 10m F6c † New

Easy climbing leads to a slab and steep wall above. Gain the wall by a thin diagonally slanting ramp and finish direct to the chain.

19.07.2023 | Campion, A Campion, G Campion

20 Arthur Dolphin isn't Dead, I've Seen Him in News of the World 10m F5a

The name is in poor taste; the climbing and the protection is no better! A leftward-slanting line up the buttress.

7.04.1991 T Peak, E Blylock
Originally graded HVS (4c) - climbed using bolts on adjacent routes on 10.09.2023

21 Club Penguin 10m F5b

Step off the pointed flake then cross the onion-like bulge to a slab. Follow the steep arête then step right at the top.

19.07.2023 A Campion, G Campion, I Campion

22 Minecraft 10m F5a

Follow the groove, cross the overlap then up friable rock to finish.

19.07.2023 A Campion, G Campion, I Campion

Runestone 3 - Lynn-er Motion area

23 Lynn-er Motion 10m F6a+

The clean slab with a prominent horizontal crack at 4m. After an encouragingly easy start, the tiny edges above are exacting. Originally E1 5b with one bolt for protection - retrobolted in 2020.

18.06.1991 P Hadfield, J Walmsley

24 Ken-etic Energy 10m F6b

The right-hand side of the slab.

15.04.2022 P Whillance, A Towse

25 Yo! Pick Poe! 10m HVS 5b

A large corner in the level below the extensive spoil slope.

7.04.1991 E Blylock, T Peak

26 Kobe's Cucumber F6b

From the top of a boulder, reach small holds then bridge the groove with difficulty to gain ledges.

1.07.2021 G Campion, M Jackson

(27) Evergreen 10m F6c+

Nice bridging in the slim corner.

30.07.2020 K Phizacklea,

(28) Omicron 10m F6b

Climb the short corner and leftward-slanting crackline on the left of the slab.

23.11.2021 G Campion, I Campion

(29) Send it like Beccs 12m F6b

The steep slab just right of Omicron. Climb directly using a few dubious flakes and brittle rock! Should improve with traffic.

23.05.2022 G Campion, I Campion.

The next route starts below an undercut slab halfway up the spoil slope.

(30) Fancy a Jump 10m F6c

An undercut start gains the hanging slab.

21.04.1992 B Pilgrim, M Edwards

(31) Sickle Moon 10m F6a+

The left-hand curving line on the slab.

2.09.2021 P.Whillance, A.Towse

(32) Matchstick Men 9m F6c+

The central line has an excellent crimpy start.

7.09.2021 P Whillance, A Towse

(33) Hunters Moon 10m F6c

Climb the initial overhang on undercuts. Powerful but short-lived.

2.09.2021 P Whillance, A Towse

The Gallery

Above the scree slope at the head of the Lower Quarry is a flat area, The Gallery. The left wall provides a dozen boulder problems between V1 and V3 which can be identified by the scars. The prominent arête is Phantom Arête V3, best approached by the path coming in from the right.

Middle Quarry - East side

🧭 30 min Aspect: North West 🌧️☀️

Lat/Lng: 54.41160531190714, -3.0696138514715585

Introduction

The two faces of Middle Quarry offer contrasting styles. The West Face gets sun in the afternoon and offers a fine varied spread of lines across the grades. Great for an afternoon or evening. The East Face sports some of the best routes here on a series of impressively steep walls enjoying morning sun. In the lower (northern) end of the quarry is the cave once used as an illicit whisky still by the notorious Lanty Slee. It was said that the resultant product was the best thing that ever came out of the quarry. Warning: there has been significant recent rockfall in Middle Quarry.

Approach

From the entrance to the Lower Quarry, follow the path up the west side of the quarry to reach a flat area between the quarries; from here the Middle Quarry can be seen. The Gallery can be reached from this flat area. On the east side of the quarry is a path which leads under a huge impressive slab bridged across the entrance. Belly Button Slab is about 30m up to the left.

The East Face

Runestone 5 Belly Button Slab LHS

1 Upper Entrance Boulder 4m F5+

A boulder problem located on the right when entering the Middle Quarry through the arch. Layback the left-hand wall; at the grade, the left-hand side block is prohibited. Descend over the arch.

A hard pull across the overhang guards sustained climbing on the arête.

15.04.1991 A Hyslop, M Bagness

4 Coye Dog 10m F6a+

A rib eases the step into the corner then continue up the groove. Or, swung left to the anchor on Hang Like a Hound. The Direct start goes at F6b.

09.04.1991 Rebolted in 2019 V McClelland, E Blylock

5 Nice View, Petunia 13m F6a

Pull onto a narrow ledge on the right at 3m. Climb the shallow groove above to finish up the slab..

13.04.1991 T Peak, V McClelland

6 Clutching at Straws 13m F6c

A rectangular slab guarded by an overhanging wall gives a fingery problem.

24.04.1991 P Hadfield, T Peak

7 Moi Straws 13m F6b+

Still tricky, this start provides a more balanced climb. Make a delicate step left onto the slab above the overhang to join Clutching below the upper groove.

8 It's Moi Land 12m F6a †

Not re-equipped. Climb the slabby corner, then rightwards through tiers of overhangs to a curving overlap. Step left, up to a ledge, then finish more easily. Or, step right with more difficulty, to finish up the rib on the right.

27.04.1991 T Peak, S Halton

9 There's Nae Fat on me Tatties 12m F6b

Good sustained climbing. From a thin rib, climb into a dark scoop flecked by rusty streaks. Following a vague groove, aim for a protruding nose of rock at the upper bulge.

3.04.1991 E Blylock, L Harrison

9.5 Tummy Tickler 12m F6a+ New

Gain the narrow rightwards-slanting slab to broken ledges below a steep scoop which is climbed to a slab and lower-off.

1.10.24 I Campion, G Campion

10 Belly Button Slab 13m F5c

Upper Quarry

 30 min

Introduction

Immediately above and south of Middle Quarry and known locally as Tunnel Hole Quarry, quarrying here has only recently been discontinued (2021). Access is by abseil or via a hidden tunnel on its eastern flank. The most prominent feature is a huge arched cave at the southern (uphill) end.

In 2023 a new tenant acquired the tenancy for the quarry above, High Fell Quarry, and restarted work there. This has led to liquid waste coming into the Upper Quarry and affecting some of the routes.

The East Face features a long bow-shaped wall of steep slanting grooves ending at a low cave. The climbs typically have difficult lower sections easing with height.

Approach

Follow a path up to the right of Middle Quarry to reach a low wall and follow this then head up left to reach a grassy slope leading to the quarry top. Descend the steep eastern hillside with care, overlooking Hodge Close, to reach some ruined buildings. The tunnel entrance is behind the buildings; initially wet with stepping stones, a drier section then emerges in a low cavern below the right side of the East Face. Abseil: from the anchor at the top of Whisky Galore. This is located on a slab alongside a grassy bay in a distinctive cut in the rim, The Notch, midway along the eastern side.

Mini-guide to Runestone Quarry
Runestone 10 Upper Quarry East Face

The East Face

The first route is on a short wall to the left of the East Face, starting from a prominent large square block leaning against the face.

① Changing of the Guard 8m F6a

Step off the block, traverse rightwards into a shallow groove and climb this on its right side pulling back left to a ledge.

12.05.2022 D Geere, K Phizacklea, P Whillance

② Unrecalled Activists 12m F6c+

Start 5m lower down to the right of the prominent block, at a slabby groove in an alcove with a horizontal shot hole in left wall. Start easily for a few metres then climb a steep groove and over an overhang to gain a slab. Up this to the anchor.

12.05.2022 K Phizacklea

The route is close to an old bolt line of unknown origin.

③ Whisky Galore 14m F6b+

Start at an undercut slab below a line of overhangs at 4m. Move up to undercuts and pull over the overhang to gain a slab. Step up, then tiptoe right on a horizontal shot hole and pull around into a steep slim groove. Climb this over a small overlap and continue, exiting right onto a slab.

27.05.2022 P Whillance, A Towse

④ Contraband 14m F6c

Start as for Whisky Galore. Move up to the undercuts then traverse awkwardly right beneath the overhangs to reach a good hold in a groove. Climb the slim slabby groove trending rightwards and pull over onto the slab.

16.06.2022 P Whillance, A Towse

⑤ Casting the Runes 14m F7a+

Start on the left-hand side of the wide cavern roof. From some blocks by a low shot hole, make a stiff pull up to gain a smaller shot hole, then move right and up to an overlap. Pull straight over to a larger one, turn this on the left then climb a slab and short groove rightwards to the anchor.

12.05.2022 K Phizacklea

⑥ English Summer 16m F7a+

From blocks below the left side of the roof, boulder the roof to gain a groove and horizontal shot hole. Make awkward moves right to reach better holds (pre-clip the second bolt). Continue up and follow a slim groove, exiting right to a ledge. Move up and over an overhang then rightwards.

29.05.2022 K Phizacklea

Runestone 11 Upper Quarry West Face

The West Face

Right of the huge arched cave at the northern end of the quarry is a distinctive bottomless arête.

7 White Lightning 18m F7a

Start below the right corner of a square pillar, just right of the cave. Climb the pillar to overhangs. Pull through rightwards then across a tricky white wall to reach the arête. Follow the thin crack in the slab trending leftwards above a lot of space to reach the lower offs.

2.06.2022 P.Whillance, A.Towse, R. Bartlett
.....as in the old illegal hooch.

8 Moonshine 22m F6b+

This excellent route dries very quickly. Start at the base of the slab. Climb easily up to some ledges then step left and make delicate moves up a thin crack in the slab to reach better holds. Move up and pull leftwards around the arête into a short groove. Climb the middle of the slab to an anchor.

12.05.2022 P.Whillance, K.Phizacklea
